

May 6, 2009

You are invited to a panel discussion on Zones of Peace in the South Caucasus, with speakers representing multiple South Caucasus groups. This session represents the conclusion of a two-day symposium on Zones of Peace in the South Caucasus, hosted by the Institute for Conflict Analysis and Resolution, at George Mason University. The discussion will consider the roles, forms, and potential for implementation of various zones of peace in the South Caucasus. The panel presentation will be followed by discussion.

The panel discussion will take place from 2:00 till 4:00 pm on Wednesday, May 27 in ICAR's Truland Building room 555, George Mason University's Arlington campus near the Virginia Square GMU metro stop (directions are attached).

The organizers of the Zones of Peace in the South Caucasus Symposium gratefully acknowledge funding from the GMU Center for Global Studies in support of workshop costs.

Please confirm your participation by e-mailing Ekaterina Romanova, eromanov@gmu.edu by May 25, 2009.

